

The Well-Dressed Guardisman

A Quartermaster's purchasing guide to outfitting yourself as a Member of the Sons of the American Revolution Color Guard

By Emil Decker,

RE - Published 2024

I have always been one to look for a deal. When purchasing my own militia uniform, I searched through many websites. As always, quality, size, color, material, as well as price varied greatly. When asked to help fellow chapter members attend events in uniform, after loaning a few items, the requests changed to, “what/where should I purchase my own?” I became the chapter’s Quartermaster. This is the 4th update of this publication. Some items previously offered no longer exist on their websites, prices change, and new items come online regularly. Internal links change. Sales happen, but there is no way to account for those in this publication.

I decided that I would put together a small volume to address the current state of affairs. I have included the various sites I have found, with personal experiences. (Understand I cannot possibly know all sites, and some local sutlers are not listed. Some don’t do websites, but sell at reenactment events. If you know of any I should include, let me know. <mailto:eldecker@weegrr.com>)
Understand that these are not an endorsement, nor an attempt to keep you from purchasing one item over another. Just my personal opinions. Photos are from seller’s webpages, so I cannot show more than they did. Of course, as soon as it is published, the prices, website, and availability will immediately change. “Capes ut pendes” {you get what you pay for} and the final choice decision is your own.

To fire a musket in any event, the material of the uniform must be natural fiber. No polyester or poly blend is allowed. Sparks and glowing embers are a real danger.

Contents: (I chose to organize by separate clothing item. Most companies offer many of the items, but not all. Cruise through their websites to see all the offerings.)

Militia minimums: What is the bare minimum needed to participate?

The bare minimum would be period shirt, pants, & shoes. Hat, waistcoat and weapon would be the next set of items to look / act the part. After that, the accessories are endless. But let's look to the essentials and build from there.

Shirt:

Standard period shirts were long sleeve, with collar. Collar may or may not be buttoned. Longer lengths like a nightshirt are more period, but tucked into pants, one would not notice a shorter length. Standard colors include white, patterned (mostly plaid) and solid colors. Materials include cotton, linen, silk, fustian, or buckskin leather.

When going in hot weather, I often wear the hunter's shirt, with the longer length hanging out over my pants. A belt wrapped around the waist is sufficient to complete the look.

Crazy Crow

This website carries mountain man, Native American, Rendezvous, and Civil War clothing. Much of it is within or close to the period dress we look for.

I have personally made purchases of shirts from Military Clothing, Crazy Crow, and Fort Downing. The cloth is pretty much as described. I have had no problems with any. MC shirts are shorter tailed, but acceptable when tucked into pants. Too short to wear out. Fort Downing was period precise, as you would expect from a reenactment sutler's craft. The embroidered heart at the collar was a nice touch. I had several conversations with Fort Downing regarding fabric choice, style, etc. on other items, even returning one that was sized wrong (my fault). Excellent service.

Pants:

Most folks think of button festooned knee breeches, although trousers (britches) are period as well. Either, depending on the wearer's preference, location unit, or occupation may play a part. Trousers have the advantage of hiding ones socks and shoes, while the knee breeches requires knee stockings and more visible shoes. Two basic styles are generally available. Drop front, where a flap covers the front of the pants, 2 – 3 buttons undo the front drop. The second design is the French Fly. (Think button front jeans). Both patterns are period, and tend to have a drawstring in the seat for additional tightening or loosening. Canvas/cotton-based materials will shrink with washing.

Samson Historical

Knee breeches are made of medium white cotton with pewter buttons. Back has laced gusset at waist. The size of the breeches is in inches with the gusset completely closed. In other words, the size is the smallest the waist will go. The company does not recommend dying these, but if you do wish to and would like advice, please contact them.

The brown breeches are the same as the white, except the buttons are matching covered.

Weskits, vests, waistcoats, or gilets:

Names and lengths changed over time, but basically fall into two categories, short and long. French and Indian War period long versions were still worn during the time of the revolution, when the style started to shorten. the French Gilet being the shortest and closest to a modern wear vest.

I have a Linen Townsend vest, and have a brocade waist coat with fabric covered buttons from Ft. Downing. (It is absolutely delightful and I have received any compliments). Two of the Military Supply basic wool. All look good and remain serviceable. As with many items with buttons, ALL have a tendency to fall off. The more rare your button, the more you want to watch for threads coming loose. Additionally, covered buttons, over time, will have the fabric come loose from behind and start to look raggedy. Replacement buttons may become necessary.

Socks:

Knee breeches require knee stockings. Trousers hide most all socks, so crew or your favorite tubes works just fine. Socks can be cotton, light weight, heavy weight, silk, wool, white, colored, striped, just about anything goes. (Bad legs or feet? Compression socks might help, and look good enough to pass. I have worn them.)

Shoes / Boots:

Probably the hardest decision in uniform selection is the shoe category. People just tend to really get picky about shoes fitting "just so." I totally understand. Some folks will find a loafer with no buckle that looks close-enough. Some have purchased slipover buckles to hide the laces of modern shoes. A shoe shop could sew a fake buckle onto a slide on shoe. A lot of folks cannot be completely faithful to authenticity due to physical feet issues. The following are available, and it is recommended to try for the most authentic look, but health comes first. Believe me, I know. (also beware. Leather soled authentic colonial shoes/boots can be extremely slippery.)

Crazy Crow

These 18th century colonial shoes are very well made, with rights and lefts rather than being straight lasted. This makes them much more comfortable to wear, with less "break in" required.

Uppers are black full grain leather, with thick all leather soles and heels. Authentic, solid brass buckles are included and already attached, making these colonial shoes ready to wear. Buckles can be adjusted to accommodate for high insteps. For half sizes or wider feet, order 1 size larger.

Sizes 8 through 12, in D width.

Trekker Half Boots were also known as riflemen's boots or half boots, and later as Jefferson Boots. Available in black or brown. Sizes run slightly large.

Sampson Historical

High quality leather, these buckle shoes are built to last. Perfect for the 18th century reenactor, solid brass buckles are included. . (We have no problem exchanging these shoes if it doesn't fit, as long as you DO NOT punch any holes for the buckles.)

Sizes 8 – 15 (in half sizes)

$125

Patterned after original riding boots of the 18th century. The cognac colored top cuff is not fixed, meaning it can be rolled up or down to fit the wearers leg comfortably. Standard Width.

Sizes 10 – 14 (in half sizes)

C & D Jarnagin

Due to the fact that a regimental coat is a very fitted coat you must fill out the complete size card along with the diagram FI-1R in order for the order to be excepted.

The Regimental reaches nearly to the knee and has back split and side vents. Please specify the number of buttons you need on the front. The cuffs are functional with buttons. Lapels are also functional with button holes carefully tailored to button into the cape (Collar). The coat was one color and the facings, lapels, and cuffs were another. The turnbacks were lined (usually in wool) with either the facing color or white. The body of the coat is lined with linen. There are two functional pockets with button holes. The edges of the collar, cuff, lapels, and tail are left raw.

Sizes 36 – 46      $425

Size 48              $475

Size 50              $495

Regimental short coat. This coat is a shorter version of the Regimental coat. It falls at the top of the thigh. The purpose of the shorter coat was to make a coat more suited for active campaigning. The short jacket was used for comfort and utility, as well as to reduce wear and tear on the Regimental Coat. Collar and cuff style can vary. The edges of the collar, cuff, lapels and tails are left raw.

Special note: Many items both uniform and accessories are available on eBay. They might be used reenactment items being offered, or new uniforms made in Pakistan or India. The prices can be competitive, and may be for bid or direct sale. I saved 30-50% on a wool uniform, I am pleased with the fit and wear of it.

Appendix A: Accessories

There are many accessories for Continental and militia uniforms. They include powder horns, leather belts, straps, haversacks, gaiters, cartridge boxes, canteens, all manner of black powder items (flash guards and flints, to cleaning kits and tools), and the list goes on and on. There are too many items to list as I have done for the clothing. This manual would become the size of an old Sears and Roebuck catalog. Suffice it to say, many of the items are available from the sutlers previously listed, and others who do not provide clothing. Below is a list of merchants I have found or done business with in the past. Good browsing.

Appendix B: Guns

Musket, pistol, sword, rifle or cannon, the weapon you choose to complete your equipment will probably be the most expensive part of your uniform. There are few websites for period reproduction weapons that most folks will go to for the majority of weapon options. Each has its own issues, prices, and requirements for purchase, based on country of origin, shipping codes and restrictions, etc.

Many of the reproductions are made in India, and the metal is subject to rust if not treated properly. Italian made reproductions will generally cost more. Super expensive would be the custom Kentucky or Pennsylvania rifles made by master gunsmiths. Originals,....well, we won't even go there.

One Canadian firm will ship the lock separate from the barrel and stock to get around shipping restrictions. Another will not drill the vent hole between the barrel and the pan, therefore it is not yet a fire abled weapon. (Local Gunsmith required to drill the hole). Others may simply need proof of age. Read and compare like weapons between vendors and do not assume. Ask. Some of my favorite sites to cruise are:

<https://www.dixiegunworks.com/>

<https://www.cabelas.com/category/Black-Powder/104701680.uts>

<https://www.midwayusa.com/black-powder/c?cid=23200>

<https://www.loyalistarms.ca/muskets.html>

<http://www.middlesexvillagetrading.com/> Takes forever. Well, he orders from the overseas manufacturer. After ordering, you are then subject to their timeline. He does fine tune weapons before shipping. My blunderbuss was been over 2 years in waiting. And don't email the curmudgeon to ask when to expect the weapon. He is very abrupt, condescending, and I waited two years on one order, with no recourse to get my money back but wait.....it finally arrived, but dang!!!!!! If you can find it elsewhere, ....well,....the only one on my list with Better Business Bureau complaints.

<http://www.militaryheritage.com/muskets.htm> They sell historically accurate muskets and pistols in a non-firing state. This allows them to comply with various local, state, national and international firearms regulations, along with shipping company policy restrictions. This means the product comes right to your doorstep. A certified gunsmith may decide to alter a musket or pistol to a firing state by drilling the vent hole and test firing it. We are not legally responsible for any changes from its present state.

<http://www.veteranarms.com/ReproductionMuzzleloadersandFlintlocks/Veteran-Arms-LLC.html>

<https://www.davide-pedersoli.com/guns-for-sale-pedersoli.asp?l=en>

<http://www.trackofthewolf.com/>

There are many good accessories for firearms here. Especially jags and items for your ramrod or lock repairs.

Note: Any weapon fired at an SAR event must have a flash guard installed. Leather hammerstalls are also recommended.

If you know of or find some interesting vendors or can't-do-without equipment, send me a link. I will add to future updates to this manual. Until later, shoot straight, keep your powder dry, and God Speed.
